To my primary care provider (Is "TUC POLYTRAUMA" the address for my primary care provider?)

Please renew my prescriptions for the medicines that show "0 Refills Remaining" My medicines that show "0 Refills Remaining" are (1) Bupropion, (2) Alfuzosin (Is this the replacement for Tamsulosin?), and (3) Warfarin.

Am I supposed to ask you to refill them or do you automatically fill them?

Thank you.

I renewed your bupropion and alfuzosin.

I am unable to renew your warfarin. Your INR is being ordered and warfarin adjusted by another provider. The managing provider needs to order your medication.

I will repeat and attempt to clarify my reply to this question which I sent you on march 15.

Your bupropion is on schedule to be mailed to you in may.
several other meds are on schedule to be mailed to you in may.
there is no refill listed on the bupropion for AFTER may 2016.
that is because I have to see you to assess your response to this med before I renew it for august 2016.

If I may make a suggestion, it is actually quicker and more straightforward for you to request medication refills through the pharmacy refill request phone line. It is true that patients have the option of using secure messaging to request non narcotic medication refills and renewals. but in practice, at this particular clinic site during the hectic winter months at any rate, there is more chance of delay and misunderstanding and hurt feelings all around when my patients use secure messaging for med requests.

just a suggestion. you have the right to continue using secure messaging.

We would like to remind all users of secure messaging that they keep their comments courteous if at all possible( as the staff endeavor to do as well). This enhances the professional relationship we hope, and strive, to maintain with all our patients.

thank you, susan morris, md

Dear Secretary of Veterans Affairs Robert A. McDonald and Assistant Deputy of Veterans Affairs Sloan D. Gibson:

(A) Please have a copy of the document referred to in the Phoenix VA's letter of May 10, 2012, as "..... We have received your typed statement on February 7, 2012, stating that you wish to withdraw your claim for *Skin cancer ....", send to me. I have not seen this document. Someone (Brian O'Neil at boneil@azdvs.gov ?) created it and made it appear as mine or as expressing my intent. If you can't get a copy I surely can't.

There are four known references to it. The Phoenix VA in Arizona references it, the Prescott Arizona Department of Veterans Service (AZDVS) references it twice, and the Saint Paul VA in Minnesota references it.

Please

(C) Please have the Power of Attorney I gave the AZDVS removed from the AZDVS records. Please have their records show that I rescinded this POV.

(D) Please have the prescriptions for my medicine renewed.

I do not have the power to do any of the above. I do not have the power to stop my assigned primary car provider from framing me. Please transfer me to a trustworthy environment for the promised care before it is too late.

Thank you.
